BrowZine: The app version

1. Install the app from your app store. (This guide has been written using iPhone. Using BrowZine on other devices may offer a different experience e.g. you may need to click , or, to get some options.)

2. When you open the app for the first time you will be prompted to choose your Library from an alphabetical list. Search for University of Stirling, and select by tapping the name.
3. You will then be prompted to login with your University username and password.

4. You will then be directed to the BrowZine app homepage.

Click continue
5. If you have already created a BrowZine account, then login. If you don’t have an account click on Sign up.

You will then be sent a confirmation email. Click confirm in the email. Your bookshelf access will then be set up.

6. There are several ways you can browse our journal collections in BrowZine.

You can use choose from one of the subject areas on the first screen. But you may want to click into the search box. This allows you to search by subject or title.
7. Select a title

Download the title to your book shelf (e.g. click , or on some devices you may need a different icon e.g ; , ). If prompted, choose whether to allow article alerts.

8. Drag your chosen journal to an appropriate shelf. Touch edit and then touch in the shelf space to edit the Shelf Name. Rename the shelf and touch done.

Android Devices

To change Bookcase/Shelf Name tap and hold on the title of your bookcase ("Bookcase 1" by default). You should see the typing cursor appear after a second or two allowing you to type and rename it. You can also tap and change shelf names after that point.
9. To create a collection click on the My Articles icon at the bottom (or top) of the app.

10. On the next screen, touch the + sign (top left) and give your new collection a name. (On some devices click the icon and select New Collection.)
11. To add articles to your own personal collections, go back to My Bookshelf. Open a journal and choose an article. Swipe the filing cabinet icon next to the selected article.

Then press the upload icon.

Android devices

Click to download the article to the ‘General Collection’. Click on an article in the General Collection and choose Save to My Articles to move or copy it to another collection.

Alternatively in My Bookshelf, click on the title of an article, then click , choose Save to My Articles and select the appropriate Collection.

This gives you the option to save to your articles and other options.

Touch on the collection you want to add this article to.
When you return to your collections, you will see that an article has been added to the collection you choose.

Note: Unfortunately some publishers’ journals or older issues of journals are not included in the BrowZine app. So if you don’t find the journal you want, we may still have access to the journal another way – see ‘What if a journal isn’t in BrowZine?’ at:
